

Orwell Village Hall Management Committee

When we arranged a meeting of the Committee for 3pm on Tuesday, 19 June we could have no clue that it would turn out to be the hottest UK day on record. As a consequence, and in line with public health recommendations, the meeting was postponed until September.

This means there is little new to report in this particular issue of the Bulletin. Many activities, including repairs and maintenance tend to fall into abeyance over the summer months and we will doubtless pick up the pace in the autumn.

Perhaps the most significant event to report is the recent resignation of our Chair, Ashley Ives. Ashley's organisational and practical skills have been major contributors to the programme of repairs and upgrades from which all hirers are now benefitting. The Committee thanks Ashley for his considerable input into the work of the Committee. He will be missed. Our Vice-chairman, Barry Sharman assumes the role of Chair, pending the election of officers at our September meeting.
